DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

1. Claim 38 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Hornbeck (US Patent 5,583,688).

Regarding claim 38, Hornbeck (figure 1) is interpreted as disclosing a micro-mirror strip assembly comprising a frame, an array of two-dimensional deflecting mirrors 102 mounted in the frame. Hornbeck is interpreted as disclosing all the claimed limitations except for explicitly disclosing blocking dams disposed between the mirrors. However, Hornbeck discloses the teaching that his invention does not have mechanical connection between the hinge support and adjacent elements. Therefore if one element experiences a structural failure, the failure can no longer lead to a collapse of the adjacent mirror elements (col. 9, lines 60-67). In light of this teaching, for devices where structural or mechanical failure would cause viscous interaction between or lead to a collapse of adjacent mirror elements, it would have been hard to conceive of a more obvious method other than disposing blocking structures between the adjacent mirror elements. Furthermore, the Applicant has not disclosed how the blocking dams of the present application would have been created differently than that of the obviousness. Therefore, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to provide blocking dams for the purpose of containing the mechanical failure within and avoiding collapses of the adjacent mirror elements.

Allowable Subject Matter

2. Claims 27-36 are allowed. The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter. Regarding claim 27, the prior art fails to disclose a method of fabricating a micromirror structure by forming a pyramid structure from a substrate material, and defining electrodes on the pyramidal structure for positioning a mirror disposed adjacent to the pyramidal structure.
